LETTER OF THE MONTH

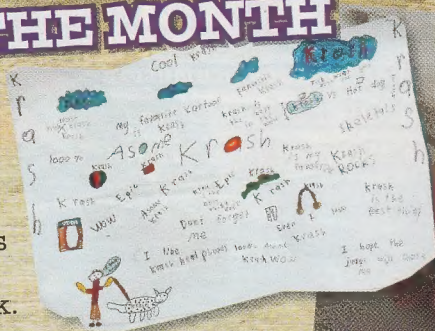

HI KRASH thanks for creating an awesome mag that I like reading and enjoying. I like reading KRASH because it is so relaxing. My favourite parts of the mag are GameSta-, Speak Up, and Shame Shack. KRASH rocks. When I read Shame Shack of the month my dad laughs. I like the prizes you give out. Aryan, NSW

The letter is written on a piece of paper with various drawings and words scattered around it. Drawings include a stick figure, a dog, and some clouds. Words include "Cool", "Krash", "Awesome", "GameSta-", "Speak Up", "Shame Shack", "I love", "my dad", "laughs", "prizes", "you", "give", "out". There are also some small drawings of people and objects.

WAD'UP KRASH?

I'm sure you already know this but KRASH IS SICK! I read every page twice. Please put some WWE posters in the mag or some monster truck posters. I have lots of your posters all over my bedroom, all my mates think it's cool and want to take them home, sometimes I give them one or swap. Anyway I gotta go. Thanks for making such an awesome magazine. Peace out.

Dylan, 11, VIC

UNDERGROUND TRAMPOLINE TREAT

The world's largest underground trampoline has recently launched in Snowdonia, north Wales. Bounce Below features three huge trampolines hanging at various levels inside an old slate cavern which are connected by 18 metre-long slides. Visitors are decked out in special overalls and a helmet before entering the caves where they can bounce, climb and slide! The natural beauty of the underground cavern is highlighted by LED lights and a series of technicoloured lights further illuminate the unique setting. Bounce Below required 4,500 hours of manual labour to remove 500 tonnes of rubble before creating the thrill seeking centre. Commercial director of Bounce Below, Sean Taylor, said, "The surreal experience of Bounce Below cannot be matched as there's nothing like it anywhere else on earth. It's essentially a ginormous underground playground and an amazing way to experience a subterranean world in a way never before possible. The best thing is you can do it all year round." Awesome!

SNAIL RACE CHAMP

The latest World Snail Racing champion has been announced after being awarded in Norfolk. Five-year-old, Zeben Butler-Allred, participated in the event with his snail, named Wells, who completed the course in three minutes and 19 seconds. The event comprises of competing snails who race to the outside of a circle measuring a distance of 13 inches. The snails are placed in the middle of the circle and pointed in the correct direction with the winning snail being the one who stays on the straightest path and crosses the outside line first. According to race organisers, the track is well-watered to satisfy the snails preference for damp conditions and each slimy participant has a marked shell to distinguish between one another. For over 25 years, the World Snail Racing Championships have been hosted at Congham, near King's Lynn in England.

BBQ CLEANING ROBOT

A product firm called Hammacher Schlemmer has invented a robot that cleans your barbecue. The Grill Cleaning Robot features a built in CPU and electric motors that rotate three cylinder-shaped brushes to push the robot against the grill grates. Reports claim the Grill Cleaning Robot can clean grates and remove burnt bits of food, as well as, grease in just a few passes. General manager from Hammacher Schlemmer, Fred Berns, confirmed, "The Grill Cleaning Robot uses cutting-edge technology to keep grill grates clean while requiring minimal effort from cooks who can instead focus on their food preparation." Priced at around $120, the Grill Cleaning Robot can be programmed to clean for ten, 20 or 30 minutes and supplies four hours of power on a rechargeable battery. According to Berns, the invention even "monitors ambient temperature and sounds an alarm if the grill is too hot to clean."

POSH POOCH FOOD

A range of gourmet food snacks for dogs has been launched by an Australian mother. Renee Kotis, from Darwin, invented a collection of unique recipes to satisfy her own fussy cocker spaniel-poodle cross, Max. Kotis soon decided to share her range and revealed, "It's been amazing how much pets have taken to them. Dogs are very pampered in Darwin and owners want the very best for their pooches. They are yummy dog and human-friendly ingredients, with no meat, baked in the oven and iced with cream cheese or yoghurt." After experimenting with creating the canine treats in her home kitchen, Kotis then produced a variety of doggie delicacies such as, 'domutts', 'woof burgers' and 'can(ine)olli'. Some of the regular ingredients used in the gourmet pooch products include carob, carrot, coconut, cream cheese and peanut butter with Kotis admitting she has even tried some of the treats herself.

SLEEPY AS CAN BEE

Festival goers have been given the opportunity to sleep in honeycomb-style sleep pods which resemble a bee hive. The B-and-BEE features four floors stacked on top of one another to form a comfortable house that can sleep over 50 people. The stackable pods are accessed via metal stairs and through a canvas zip-up door and include a convertible king-sized bed which transforms into seating or storage, a locker, a light and a power supply. The unique accommodation has been tested recently at the Ghent Festival in Belgium and has since won a creative competition. Co-inventor, Barbara Vanthorre, said, "We thought: why not stack a honeycomb, not for bees, but for festival goers to offer a very comfortable, cosy alternative for the overbooked and overpriced hotels during festival times?" It is hoped the B-and-BEE will enter mass production later this year with the aim to accommodate more festival goers over the summer season.

DINOSAUR DROPPING DOLLARS

The world's longest dinosaur dropping has been discovered and sold at a recent auction. Spokesman for the Beverly Hills auctioneers, I.M. Chait, Josh Chait, explained, "This truly spectacular specimen is possibly the longest example of coprolite - fossilised dinosaur faeces - ever to be offered at auction. The passer of this remarkable object is unknown." Measuring 40 inches long, it is believed the massive dinosaur dung is between five and 34-million-years old, dating back to the Miocene-Oligocene era. Chait described the specimen as featuring, "a wonderfully even, pale brown-yellow colouring and terrifically detailed texture to the heavily botryoidal surface across the whole of its immense length." Sounds very specific for a dinosaur do-do! The estimated price of the fossil was around ten thousand dollars! Also under the hammer were a selection of stools believed to be from a Miocene turtle.

WORM CHARMING CHAMPIONS

The latest World Worm Charming champions have been crowned at the annual event held in Nantwich, Cheshire in the United Kingdom. The 35th year of the Worm Charming Championship welcomed participants to the Willaston County Primary School and saw 144 people compete. Each participant was given a three metre by three metre plot of land and had 30 minutes to collect as many worms as possible. Amongst the various worm charming techniques included vibrating a garden fork, singing and playing musical instruments. However, it was the Bowden family, from Lancashire, who claimed the title after they teased out an incredible 394 worms from their garden plot.

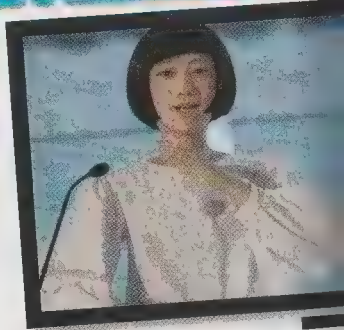

There were a series of other accolades at the event including the Most Promising Newcomer awarded to Lucas and Melvyn Mostran who collected 184 worms, as well as, the Heaviest Worm trophy which was won by Liam and Patrick Martin with a worm weighing just under six grams.

PILOT PIZZA HERO

A Frontier Airlines pilot was hailed a hero earlier this year when he ordered pizzas to feed 160 passengers and crew who were delayed on the tarmac for two hours in the American city of Cheyenne, Wyoming. Manager at the fast food chain, Ritchie, prepared and cooked around 35 pizzas, with help from co-workers, and delivered them to the grounded plane. Ritchie recalled, "We took them up to the front desk at the airport and they escorted our driver to the back and they handed the pizzas directly to the flight attendants." The aircraft was flying from Washington and was already hours behind schedule when it was diverted and grounded due to bad weather conditions. As there was no food onboard, the pilot reportedly announced to passengers, "Ladies and gentlemen, Frontier Airlines is known for being one of the cheapest airlines in the US, but your captain is not cheap...I just ordered pizza for the entire plane." Aww, sounds like a nice guy!

ROBOT NEWSREADER REVEALED

Japanese scientists have revealed what they believe to be the first news-reading robot complete with a sense of humour. The young-looking "Kodomoroid" is a combination of the Japanese word "kodomo" which means child and "android". The news-reading robot has already delivered stories and joked about her creator, robotics professor, Hiroshi Ishiguro. To the disbelief of human counterparts, Kodomoroid appears to have perfect pitch and can perform tongue-twisters with ease. Kodomoroid said, "My dream is to have my own TV show in the future" and currently works at the National Museum of Emerging Science and Innovation. The idea is to have the specialised robot interact with visitors to collect data for various studies of human reactions to machines. Hiroshi Ishiguro said, "This will give us important feedback as we explore the question of what is human. We want robots to become increasingly clever."

TMNT TRUCK BROUGHT TO LIFE

A mechanical makeover has transformed a Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles toy into a real vehicle. The Pizza Thrower was an original spin-off toy from the 1980s cartoon series, but, has been recreated by Paramount International, the life-sized Pizza Thrower pick-up truck stands over three metres tall, measures almost two metres wide, is close to five metres long and weighs almost two tonnes. The toy turned truck reaches speeds of up to 120 kilometres per hour, however, must slow down significantly when it shoots out pizzas to passers-by. The actual pizza-throwing mechanism was designed by the company, Synn Labs, based in Los Angeles, and is able to toss pizzas up to nine metres away. Cowabunga!

LINK V

STATUS:

Link is the main character in the Legend of Zelda gaming series. He comes from the fictional land of Hyrule where he travels through defeating creatures, evil forces and villains.

STYLE:

Depicted as a young-adult, Link has light-coloured hair, blue eyes and is a medium build. He has elf-like characteristics and generally dresses in a green tunic and green pointed cap.

PERSONALITY:

Link is a brave and courageous hero who leaves his home and family to follow his destiny demonstrating his commitment to protect those in need.

FRIENDS:

The main mission for our hero, Link, is to save the beautiful Princess Zelda, the princess of Hyrule. However, during his journey, Link, also encounters a number of friendly characters who help in his quest.

SKILLS:

This hero is renowned for his swordsmanship and often carries legendary weapons, such as, the mystic Master Sword and a shield. Throughout his travels, Link also uses other magical objects and instruments.

FINAL STATE

Status: Michelangelo and Link are both popular gaming heroes from the 1980s. We're calling it a tie.

Style: Both characters like the colour green, but, given Link wears clothes, he gets our vote.

Personality: Michelangelo scores personality points with his positive attitude and sense of humour.

Friend: We're impressed with the comradeship between the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles.

Skills: Link's magical weapons and instruments win us over.

MICHELANGELO

STATUS:

Turtles featured in the movie adaptation release this year. Michelangelo, alongside his three brothers, rise from the sewers to save New York City from the evil, Shredder.

Michelangelo is one of the Teenage Mutant Ninja

STYLE:

Michelangelo is a green turtle who wears an orange bandana, and often carries a pair of nunchaku on his belt.

PERSONALITY:

This particular turtle

is the jokester of the group who loves playing video games, eating pizza and skateboarding. But, behind his laid-back demeanour, Michelangelo, has an impressive fighting spirit to take on enemies.

FRIENDS:

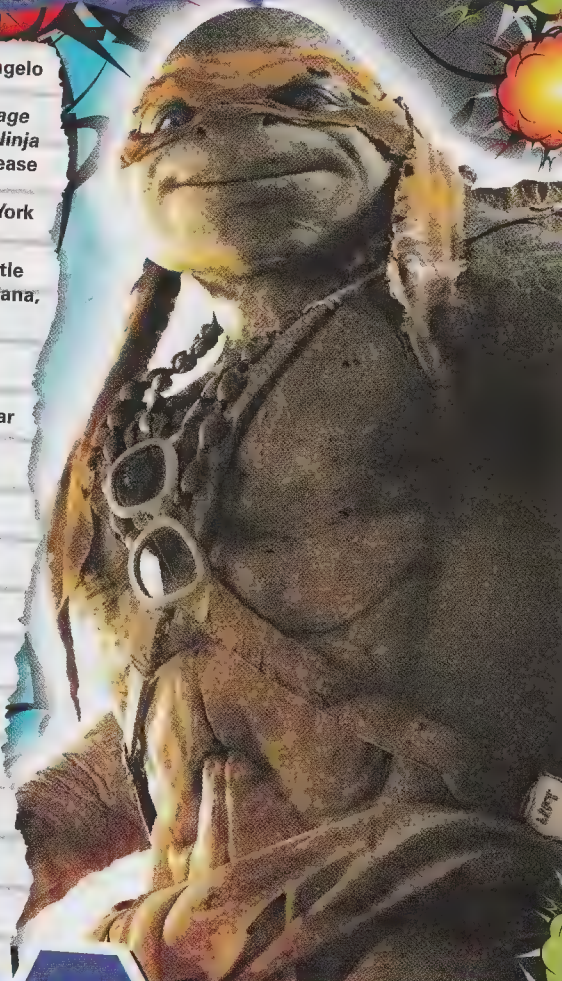

Michelangelo is lucky to have brothers, Donatello, Leonardo and Raphael as his closest friends. He also gains extensive knowledge and leadership from the very wise, Master Splinter.

SKILLS:

Amongst Michelangelo's range of talents are his expertise in Ninjutsu, his bulletproof shell and at times, even his skateboarding skills. One of Mikey's greatest characteristics, however, is his attitude and fun-loving personality.

THE BOXTROLLS PACKS

The Boxtrolls, from the makers of Coraline and Paranorman, stars the voice talents of Isaac Hempstead-Wright (Game Of Thrones), Elle Fanning, Ben Kingsley, Toni Collette, Nick Frost and Simon Pegg!

The Boxtrolls is an hilarious tale set in Cheesebridge, a Victorian-era town obsessed with wealth and cheese. According to legend, The Boxtrolls are sewer-dwelling monsters who surface at night to steal both children and cheese. In reality, they are a community of quirky and endearing creatures who wear cardboard boxes like turtles wear shells.

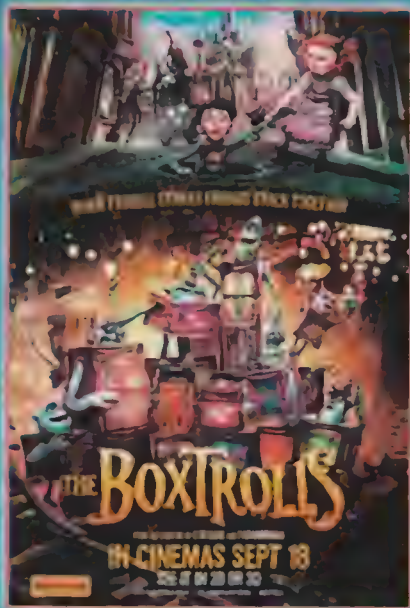

The cavern-dwellers raise Eggs, an orphaned human voiced by Hempstead-Wright. Archibald, a pest exterminator (Ben Kingsley), wants to eradicate The Boxtrolls to get entry into high society. Eggs' only ally is the Mayor's prissy, hot-tempered daughter Winifred Portley-Sprocket (Elle Fanning).

TURTLE TRIVIA:

Some of the filming locations for Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles included New York City, featuring Manhattan's Cipriani restaurant, the Guggenheim Estate in Sands Point and Big Tupper Ski Area in the Adirondacks.

TURTLE TRIVIA:

The 2014 movie was originally to be titled just "Ninja Turtles", however, the "Teenage Mutant" part was re-added to satisfy fans after some expressed negative feedback about the revised name.

TEENAGE MUTANT NINJA TURTLES

MOVIE: Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles

RELEASE DATE: 11 September, 2014

CAST: Megan Fox, Will Arnett, William Fichtner, Johnny Knoxville and Wuop! Goldberg

STORY: Released in the 30th anniversary celebration of the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles saga, the latest movie adaptation is due to hit cinemas this September. The evil Shredder and his Foot Clan have taken control of New York City from the police to politicians. The future looks bleak, until, the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles emerge from the sewers and challenge Shredder. Four green turtle brothers, Michelangelo, Donatello, Leonardo and Raphael, are led by a wise rat named Splinter and alongside fearless reporter April O'Neil, set out to save New York City. Whether you were a fan of the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles in the television cartoon series or the live action movies or the original comic books, there is definitely something for everyone in the latest high-tech release.

TURTLE TRIVIA:

During filming of Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle, it was given the undercover code name of "Foursquare". People involved in the movie's production were requested to use this name when referring to the film in order to keep it secret.

TURTLE TRIVIA:

Actress Megan Fox, stars as reporter April O'Neil, who wears a yellow jacket throughout the 2014 movie. This honours the original character from the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles story from 1987, where April prominently wears a yellow jumpsuit.

TURTLE TRIVIA:

This year's movie adaptation of Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles is the first film in the franchise to be released by Paramount Pictures, as well as, in 3D.

VIE MADNESS

H ONE OF THESE MAGNIFICENT MOVIES.

THE BOXTROLLS

MOVIE: The Boxtrolls

RELEASE DATE: 18 September 2014

CAST: Elle Fanning, Simon Pegg, Toni Collette, Tracy Morgan and Ben Kingsley

STORY: The Boxtrolls is stop-motion animation film adaptation of the children's novel, Here Be Monsters!, written by Alan Snow. In the posh Victorian-era town of Chelmotridge, the residents are obsessed with money, class, and fine cheese. However, underneath the cobblestone streets live a group of cave-dwelling, cardboard-box wearing, garbage collectors known as Boxtrolls. The film follows a young orphan named Eggs who has been raised by the community of quietly dumpster-diving Boxtrolls since infancy. When villainous pest exterminator Archibald Snatchum plans to rid the town of Boxtrolls in hopes to gain acceptance in society, Eggs embarks on an adventure to save his adopted family. Eggs ventures above ground where he meets a feisty girl, named Winnie, who joins his quest and helps devise a strategy to rescue the Boxtrolls from the evil exterminator and bring together the two divided worlds within Chelmotridge.

BOXTROLL TRIVIA:

The production company, Laika, were responsible for the previous films, Coraline and ParaNorman, and have spent ten years making The Boxtrolls.

BOXTROLL TRIVIA:

During a panel discussion at the San Diego Comic-Con, president and CEO of Laika, Travis Knight, revealed, "We started working on Here Be Monsters! almost ten years ago... It's this 500-page book. It's like a phone book. We somehow had to distil the essence of that down to a 90-minute movie. It took us nearly ten years, but in the end we have something I think that's really beautiful."

BOXTROLL TRIVIA:

In Greece, The Boxtrolls film is known otherwise as Ta Teratokoutakia and in Italy as Boxtrolls - Le scatole magiche.

BOXTROLL TRIVIA:

Focus Features hold the worldwide distribution rights to The Boxtrolls, and Universal Pictures International will release the movie overseas.

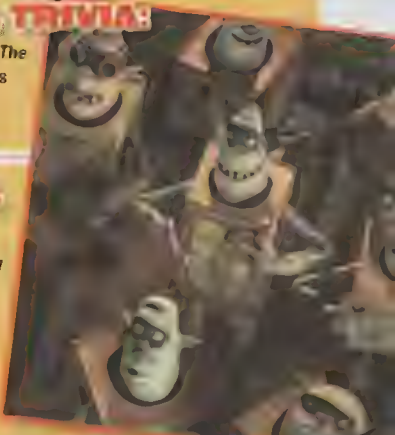

BOXTROLL TRIVIA:

The confirmed tagline for The Boxtrolls movie is "Heroes come in all shapes and sizes...even rectangles."

BOXTROLL TRIVIA:

On 11 June, 2014, two new trailers, one for America and one for England were released by the studio.

The Boxtrolls premiered at the Venice Film Festival on 31 August, 2014

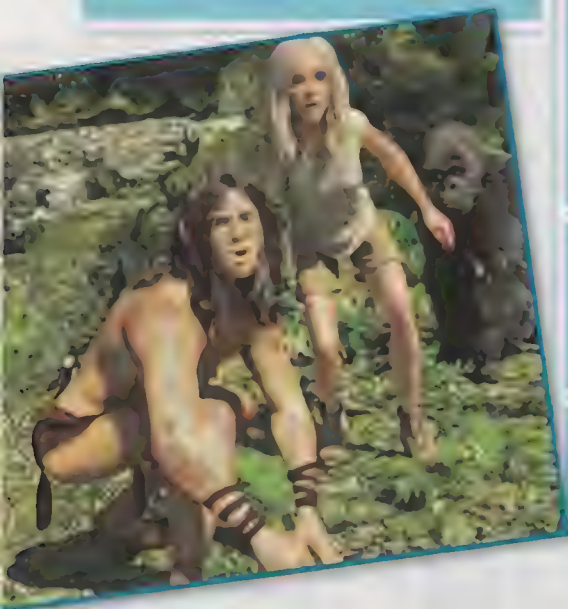

TARZAN TRIVIA:

The film's motion capture was shot in the Bavaria Film studio in Munich, and the animation process was completed in two studios, one in Bavaria and the other in Hannover.

TARZAN TRIVIA:

This release of Tarzan represents an American-German-French 3D computer-animated motion capture film; directed and produced by German producer, Reinhard Klooss. It was first launched on 17 October, 2013 in Russia.

TARZAN

STORY: Tarzan.

RELEASE DATE: 11 September 2014.

CAST: Kellan Lutz, Jaime Ray Newman, Robert Capron and Spencer Loker.

STORY: In this new incarnation of the classic story, this year's release of Tarzan is set to leap off the movie screen. After a tragic helicopter crash kills both of his parents, a baby Tarzan is lost in the remote African jungle and rescued by a gentle ape named, Kala. In the following fourteen years, Tarzan lives amongst his fellow mountain gorilla family. However, when Tarzan meets a pretty teenage girl, named Jane Porter, his seemingly simple world is turned upside down as he tries to accept and understand the emotion of his first human encounter. Together, Tarzan and Jane embark on a journey to defeat the evil CEO of Greystoke Energies, the man who took over the company from Tarzan's parents, following their death.

TARZAN TRIVIA:

The latest film is based on the classic book, Tarzan of the Apes, which was written in 1914 by Edgar Rice Burroughs. It is one of many adaptations of the classic tale.

TARZAN TRIVIA:

Another adaptation of Tarzan is currently undergoing filming. Due for release in July, 2016, the live-action film, Tarzan, stars Alexander Skarsgård and, Australian actress, Margot Robbie. David Yates, who directed the movie, Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows, has signed on as the director for the future release of Tarzan.

TARZAN TRIVIA:

There are three versions of the Tarzan character in this film. Craig Garner plays four-year-old Tarzan, Anton Zetterholm represents teenage Tarzan and Kellan Lutz stars as adult Tarzan.

TARZAN TRIVIA:

The 1999 Disney animated film, Tarzan, grossed upwards of $400 million worldwide.

Movies mentioned herein are subject to change.

TRIVIA:

On 10 July, 2012, Lionsgate announced that novel Mockingjay would be split into two parts, with The Hunger Games: Mockingjay (Part 1) due for release on 21 November, 2014, followed by The Hunger Games: Mockingjay (Part 2) on 20 November, 2015.

TRIVIA:

Actress, Julianne Moore, confirmed that her two children who are both fans of the novels, convinced her to accept the role of President Alma Coin.

TRIVIA:

In the attempt to prevent spoilers and ensure secrecy was kept, the working title of The Hunger Games: Mockingjay (Part 1) during filming was "Seashore".

TRIVIA:

Initial photography on the both parts of the third The Hunger Games film began on 23 September, 2013 in Atlanta. It then moved to Paris for two weeks of filming and officially wrapped up on 20 June, 2014 in Berlin, Germany.

TRIVIA:

The novel Mockingjay was written in 2010 by American author, Suzanne Collins, and sold 450,000 copies in the first week of release which greatly exceeded the publisher's expectations.

THE HUNGER GAMES: MOCKINGJAY PART 1

MOVIE: The Hunger Games: Mockingjay (Part 1)

RELEASE DATE: 20 November, 2014

CAST: Jennifer Lawrence, Josh Hutcherson, Liam Hemsworth and Woody Harrison.

STORY: The Hunger Games: Mockingjay (Part 1) is the first of two cinematic releases based on the final book in The Hunger Games trilogy, written by Suzanne Collins. In this sneak preview into the latest film, we can reveal that our heroine, Katniss Everdeen, returns as the reluctant figure of a mass rebellion against the authoritarian Capitol, who have declared the Mockingjay symbol illegal. Katniss finds herself in District 13 under the leadership of President Alma Coin. With the support from her close friends, Katniss courageously embarks on a mission to save fellow Tributes, Peeta Mellark, as well as, the nation.

TRIVIA:

New Zealand singer, Lorde, will contribute the first single for the upcoming Hunger Games movie and curate the soundtrack. The Grammy Award-winner declared to Twitter fans, "Be ready. I am so pleased and proud to have been announced the sole creator of the soundtrack for Hunger Games: Mockingjay (Part 1)." Lorde will hand pick artists to include on the album and said, "Curating the soundtrack for such a hotly-anticipated film was a challenge but I jumped at the chance. I think the soundtrack is definitely going to surprise people."

CRAZY COP CRUISER

The quickest way
to fight crime!
(unless you're Superman)

While I've lost some pretty sick police cars over the years — including a Lamborghini Gallardo, a BMW Z28, and even a Hammer, — but this Ariel Atom F1 police car from Somerset, England just might take the top cop cake!

British performance garages Ariel have provided one lucky cop shop in the UK with a special one-off Atom — totally decked out in full police uniform. The tricky team built it for promotional reasons for the Police Force's ongoing Safer Rider campaign — but they may have to build more once more and more cops want one for themselves.

Based on the latest Atom 3.5R now on the market, this cop car version possesses a fitted 2.0 liter supercharged four cylinder Honda engine that delivers a mind-blowing 250 horsepower (200kW) that can rocket it to 102 km/h in just 2.6 seconds — hardly enough time to chase down criminals with enough spare time to get to the donut shop! We're just guessing, but we reckon those super-stems also make it the quickest accelerating car on the road and/or track.

Of course, insane speed delivery isn't the only thing needed to create a tech-detective Ariel Atom. The car also features bright flame yellow and blue decal, functioning sirens, along with a light bar mounted on top of the large air intake which helps fuel the engine. While bragging about the Ariel Atom F1 and discussing the Safer Rider campaign designed to promote awareness to motorcyclists about road safety, Ariel company director Simon Saunders said, "Our business is about going fast, very fast, but there is a time and a place. The Atom is designed to be driven on a race track, where you can drive to your limits in safety and in a professional environment designed for the purpose."

Still, Simon says he won't mind if the police do find a need to engage in a hot pursuit, saying, "If a police officer is driving it, then it's a police vehicle! That's all we needed to hear — so where do we sign up for the Police Academy?"

WHAT'S Everyone Talking ABOUT

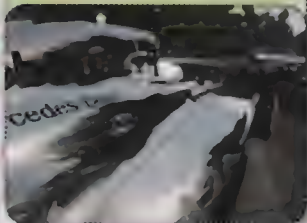

We are positively bursting with killer games this month!

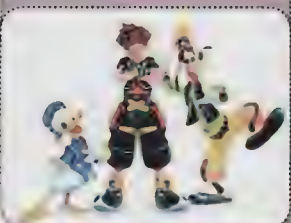

Is the future mobile, or is it handheld? We think that both will continue to grow and be awesome, but powerful developer EA (FIFA, The Sims) has recently come out and said it is going to start taking its focus off 3DS and Vita and moving it to Mobile.

It's already been a great year for racing game fans with Grid Autosport and Forza Horizon 2, but there's more to come. We've just got word that the exciting Project Cars simulation will hit PS4, XBO, Wii U and PC in November, while F1 2014 is also set to hit PS3, XBO and PC on October 16.

Any new Kingdom Hearts release is worth celebrating and we've just got confirmation that the upcoming Kingdom Hearts HD 2.5 ReMix pack for PS3 will be out on Dec 4. It includes remastered versions of Kingdom Hearts II and Kingdom Hearts Birth by Sleep.

A roguelike is a randomly generated dungeon crawler that often has some cool RPG elements (like lots of loot). One of the coolest roguelikes of recent years is Rogue Legacy and it just arrived on the PS4, PS4 and Vita, as a downloadable game from the PSN.

Finally we have a pretty epic announcement for you. Digimon All Stars Rumble has been announced for PS3 and 360 and will be out this year. Similar to Super Smash Bros, you'll battle it out in four player arena battles, with 12 base Digimon characters and 32 Digimon forms from across the entire Digimon universe to choose between. Excellent!

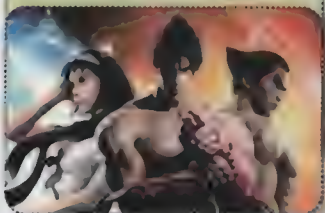

Speaking of release dates, make sure you jot this down in your diary. Pac-Man and the Ghostly Adventures 2 will launch on October 14 - woo! LittleBigPlanet 3 will be out on November 21, too.

The pretty awesome world creation game Project Spark for the Xbox One has scored a release date - October 7!

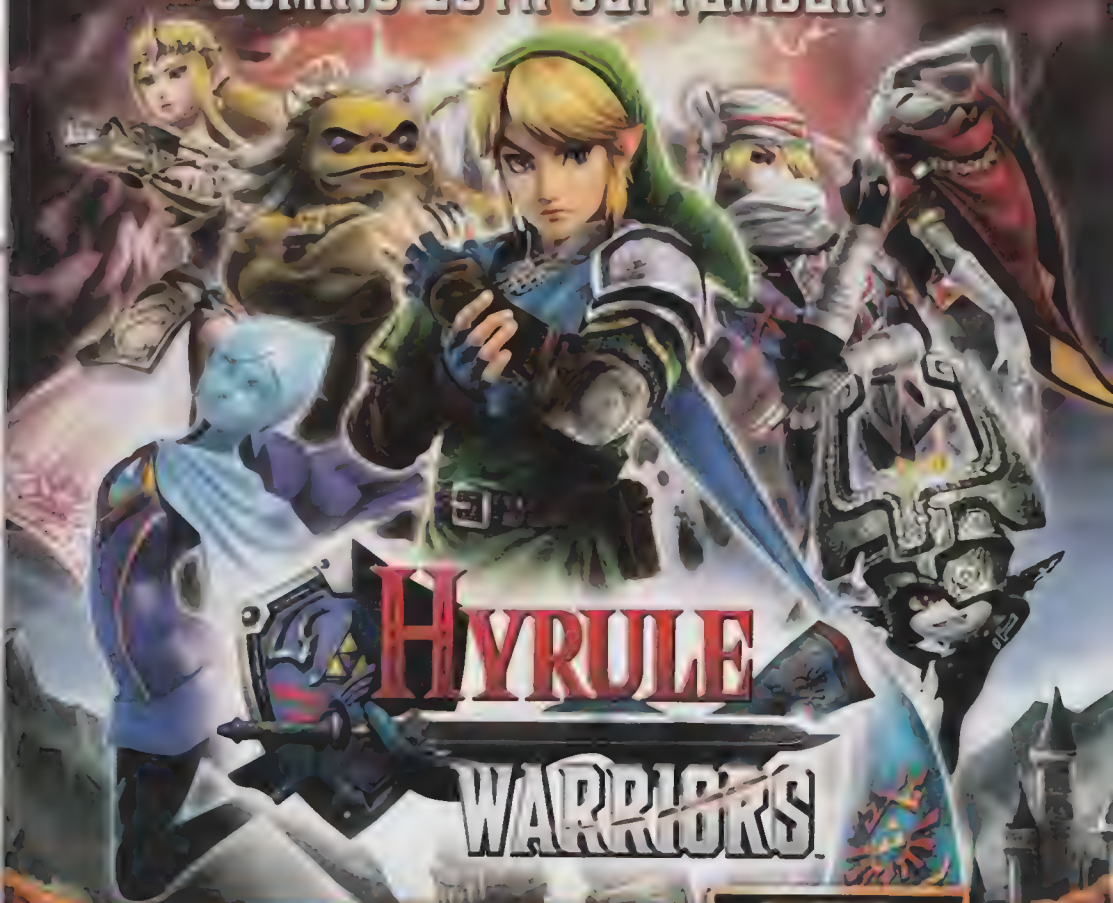

Fighting fans get excited: Tekken 7 has just been announced for next-gen systems and it is being made with the brand new Unreal Engine 4 technology. This could be the best looking fighter ever made.

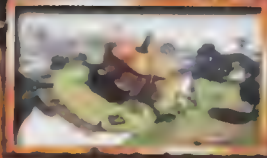

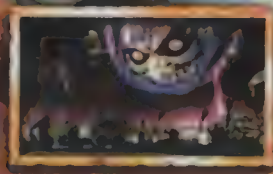

One of the pleasant surprises of E3 this year was the announcement of Lara Croft And The Temple Of Osiris, a sequel to the cool Tomb Raider spin-off that features top down combat and puzzle solving fun with full co-op. We've just discovered it will be out on December 9.

HYRULE'S GREATEST WARRIORS

Nintendo

Nintendo Land

Who doesn't love Nintendo, seriously? This most awesome of video companies has been making the best games and platforms since your dad was a little boy! We think it's high time the mighty Nintendo got its own little corner of KANSAS to call its own, so over the coming issues you can turn straight here to see all the latest and greatest Nintendo news, previews and reviews in one spot. Be it 3DS or Wii U, we have you covered.

THE MUSHROOM DAILY

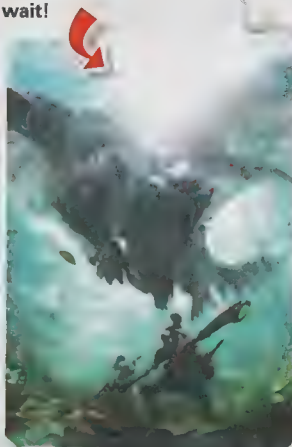

■ We're loving the support Nintendo is showing Mario Kart 8. A new update adds a stack of new features (like better statistics and the ability to see the map on your TV) and performance improvements. Plus you can now get special DLC in the form of three new Mercedes karts - Mercedes-Benz GLA, the 1950s 300 SL Roadster and the legendary 1930s Silver Arrow

■ Nintendo has confirmed that it will be bringing Monster Hunter 4 Ultimate to Australia on the 3DS in 2015 - we can't wait!

■ Excellent looking 3D puzzle game Captain Toad: Treasure Tracker will be the first killer game of 2015 - it is releasing in January!

■ Sonic Boom: Shattered Crystal (3DS) will hit mid-November, with Sonic Boom: Rise of Lyric (Wii U) coming out a week later

MORE CHARACTERS ADDED TO SUPER SMASH BROS LIST

Nintendo keeps teasing us with new characters and battle arenas for the upcoming Super Smash Bros. Here are the latest additions:

- Pac-Man
- Robin (Fire Emblem)
- Lucina (Fire Emblem)
- Captain Falcon (F-Zero)
- Ike (Fire Emblem)
- Charizard (Pokemon)
- Palutena (Kid Icarus)

■ Disney Magical World is confirmed for the 3DS (woo!) and will hit Australia on October 25

■ One very special developer is giving your old Nintendo Wii some love this month. FIFA 15 will be releasing on the Wii

HYRULE WARRIORS

Wii U

Ever since its surprise announcement late last year, we have been getting steadily excited about this awesome sounding game. Now we're set to explode as the final details have come in, and the game fits those shavies, Hyrule Warriors mixes two classic game series - the Legend of Zelda and Dynasty Warriors - into the one experience, taking the most fun elements of both games across in the process.

To say it more accurately, it's like a Dynasty Warriors game set in the world from Legend of Zelda. So everything from the look of the land, the characters, the enemies, the music and even the massive events in which you find cool goodies is just like the Legend of Zelda. However, the gameplay isn't like a classic adventure, but instead puts you onto these epic battlefields where hundreds of warriors are battling it out for control of lands (like forests) around the map, so they can eventually win the battle.

You can play in co-op, which is awesome, so you and some friends can select characters like Link, Zelda and Ganondorf (yes, the big guy himself!), then start putting together combos as you wade through some after waves of bad dudes. General grants are easy to defeat, but harder enemies and big boss battles require a lot more strategy. Objectives change on the fly depending on how you manage the battlefield and keep control of bases, pushing the enemy farther and further back.

What's also very cool is that classic Zelda items like the Hammer, Bow, Bombs and Hookshot are available, the latter even allowing you to do more classic adventure gaming stuff like exploring new areas. There's plenty to discover, too, including cameos from characters from all the past Zelda games.

The graphics are amazing, really setting you into those epic battles and making you feel great as you unleash spectacular attacks. Each character has its own special attacks and each weapon creates different screen-filling moves.

Too. Plus, as you level-up characters and find loot, you can use these to enhance abilities and skills, gaining access to more combat abilities. There's hours of fun just trying all those out. We can't believe just how awesome this game has turned out!

DID YOU KNOW?

There is an Adventure Mode in Hyrule Warriors which is a great way to unlock new characters and get cool loot

FANTASY LIFE 3DS

What would happen if you mixed the amazing RPG series Final Fantasy with the town-building whimsy of Animal Crossing? You get Fantasy Life, which has to be one of the most exciting 3DS games of the year. It's been a huge hit in Japan since Christmas last year, and we're excited that it's finally coming out to Aussie gamers.

The game starts off like a normal RPG, when you choose from 12 different classes of character, customise their appearance and help define their characteristics. However, the first hint that this is a different type of game comes when you realise that eight of the classes aren't combat related. You can totally be a fisherman, or a lumberjack, or a cook, a miner, or a carpenter, and build your character in the world without killing monsters. Well, at least those that don't try and stop you from fishing.

As you explore your little town, you are able to meet new characters, try out new professions, and then set out on quests RPG style. However, since it is a completely open world, you're free to just explore and try out fun things – like crafting new furniture and planting it around your house – rather than complete any story-related quests. You can actually spend tens of hours just doing these Animal Crossing style activities before you venture off on a mission. So one day you may just want to just down a new town to mine for goodies.

While the rest you may want to party up with other characters (or even up to three friends online) and go learn some more of the story.

Fantasy Life's visual style really adds to the experience, too. It's like a cross between old anime and the classic adventure games in the Zelda or Pokémon series. The world is fully 3D, and you view it from a slightly raised camera that follows you explore the big, colourful world easily. The 3DS does a good job of showing off the outside and inside bits of the world well, helping the combat and crafting delightful tiny town.

It's just with a good idea mixing the town building experience where you can form relationships with characters and create a new life, while still questing and levelling up like a classic adventure. This game will last you for years.

SUPER MARIO 3D WORLD Wii U

How To Unlock the Luigi Bros. Mini-Game

There are two ways to unlock this old-school arcade game; the first simply requires you to have a Super Luigi U save file primary on your Wii U. Alternatively, complete Worlds 1 through 8 in the main game. Once unlocked you can access it by tapping the Luigi icon in the lower-left corner of the GamePad touchscreen.

Traps 'n' Gemstones

FORMAT: iOS

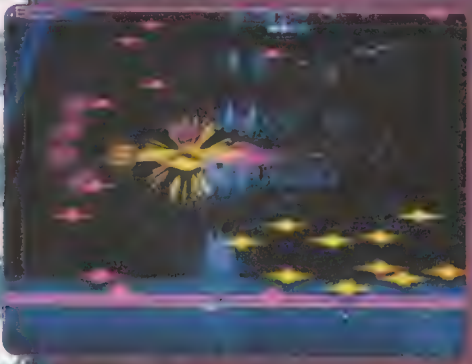

We're totally in love with this old-school platformer from Domet Games. It's the Indiana Jones meets Super Metroid, as you explore the insides of a pyramid, you're on the hunt for special artifacts, but you are free to find them in any way you like. This controls are really responsive and retro-inspired visuals are super cool, too.

Super Crossfighter

FORMAT: iOS, Android

This humble shooter has been around since the days of Space Invaders, but the modern take proves that this old-school genre still has plenty to offer gamers. You race to blast away at enemies as they swarm onto the screen, and interestingly you can flip at any time to be on the top or bottom of the screen. The graphics are super cool, with lots of neon lights and explosions to enjoy, while the controls are very tight & great way to spend a few minutes.

Godus

FORMAT: iOS

Along 25-years ago, a developer called Peter Molyneux created the god game with his title Populous. All these years later, he is back reinventing it for touchscreens with the amazing game Godus. Your job is to create a world and keep its people happy or scared, depending on what type of god you want to be. Building mountains and rivers and managing your little society is a breeze.

Epic Skater

FORMAT: iOS, Android

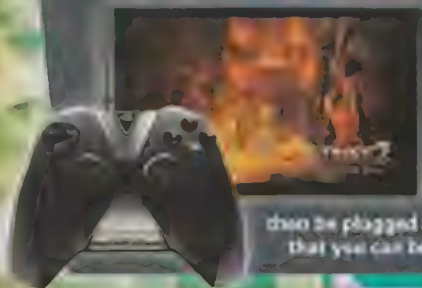

This simple cartoony skate game is way more fun than you might expect. It's an endless runner (or should that be skater) where you tap to Ollie, and swipe to do tricks. The better you go at completing objectives, the more experience you earn which can be used to unlock more tricks. The funny ragdoll effects make crashing fun, and you'll enjoy it so much you'll have no worries about jumping back on your board and trying again.

The gizmos and gadgets that power our gaming fun!

Nvidia Shield Tablet

Tablet gaming is quickly becoming as cool as any other sort of gaming and the dudes at Nvidia – a company best known for making graphics cards – know it! They have created their own tablet that is purpose-built for gaming: it has a powerful Tegra K1 processor, 1900 x 1200 HD display, speakers and even a 5MP camera so you can stream straight to Twitch. Then things start to get interesting. You can play any Android game on the tablet, but also stream PC games. The tablet can then be plugged directly into a big TV, and it has its own wireless controller that you can buy. So, you effectively get a mobile console – pretty cool.

Razer Atrox Arcade Stick

If you want to play a fighting game like Killer Instinct on your Xbox One in style, then you need one of these bad boys. It's tournament-grade arcade stick setup that allows you to turn your lounge room into a time zone. You get the full eight buttons and a really comfortable stick, which is all fully customisable depending on the game and what you find comfortable. It connects to your Xbox One via a huge 12ft long USB cable and was built with the help of a pro gamer called Xian, who won the Evolution Championship fighting game tournament, so you know it is good.

Sharp Quattron Pro 80" LED LCD TV

There's a stack of great new TVs out on the market, but when it comes to the rich colours you want when playing a video game it's hard to go past the Sharp Quattron Pro (which also comes in 60" and 70" sizes). It goes beyond the usual base Red, Blue and Green colours used on most TVs and adds a fully flexible Yellow. This combines with the addition of 2.5 times as many sub-pixels to really get the colours to pop. The TV has all the bells and whistles, like 4K resolution upscaling and smart TV, but helping to further set this TV apart is a Yamaha powered sound system, including a subwoofer, built in! Crazy!

FORZA HORIZON 2

KRASH

BEING MORE THAN

Games are awesome; we all know that. And for more than thirty years, kids around the world have been wiggling joysticks, wiggling Wii-motes and whacking buttons while their friends cheered along beside them. In fact, gaming has been around so long, we suspect that even your dad used to play games when he was a kid. Maybe he still does! But in the modern day, gaming needs to be more than just a game. It needs to be a franchise.

The world is filled with massive franchises. Brands like Star Wars, Harry Potter, AdventureTime and Dragon Ball are more than just one specific type of product. They are toys, films, books, comics, games, records, lunchboxes, backpacks, hats, t-shirts and even underwear. This is what a franchise is – something so huge that you find its images, name and characters on all kinds of crazy stuff.

Recently, games have started to become more than just a game, instead of a disc or a cartridge that you put into a machine, the characters and worlds from our favourite games are starting to appear on all kinds of things in all kinds of places. In fact, it's now really important for a big name game to become a franchise if it wants to really stand out, and we think that is awesome! Who wouldn't want more from their favourite game world to enjoy? So we thought we would take a look at some of the cool characters that are doing just that in the coming months.

TOYS

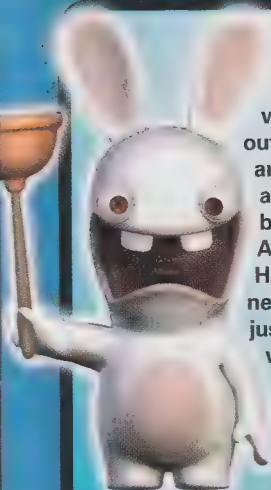

Perhaps the most obvious way that video games have expanded in recent years is into the toy market. There have always been toys based on games, and even games based on toys – look at the popular Lego series – but titles like Skylanders and Disney Infinity have taken this idea further than we ever thought possible. Now you have these high quality toys that not only look cool and are fun to play with, but actually play a role in the game. At the recent E3 event, we found out that Nintendo is going to start doing the same thing with its range of characters – called Amiibo, you'll be able to play with toys like Mario and Yoshi. The Angry Birds series is also going to start doing the same thing later in the year, and we've also heard that the mighty Pac-man may be getting in on the act, too.

AN JUST A GAME

MOVIES

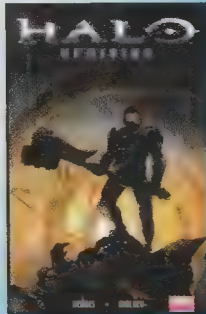

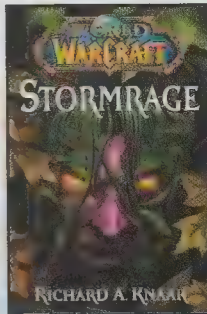

It wasn't that long ago that movies based on video games were a big no-no. There's lots of awesome games based on movies out there, but all the movies based on games had been kind of boring and, well, badly made. In the last few years, however, there has been a huge increase in the quality of not only movies based on games, but TV Shows as well. There is the excellent Pac-Man & the Ghostly Adventures series, for example, and later this year Sonic Boom and Halo will be coming to a TV near you. A Need for Speed film just went crazy in cinemas, and we know that movies based on Ratchet & Clank, The Rabbids, World of Warcraft, Angry Birds and even Gran Turismo are in the works. So cool!

BOOKS AND COMICS

One of the best things about modern games is that their worlds are so massive and the characters so detailed, that there are often way more stories to be told than can fit in one game. As a result, many developers have started to tell extra stories from their game worlds, often involving new characters and locations, through books and – even better – comics. Infamous, Halo, Sonic the Hedgehog, Tekken and Ratchet & Clank have all had comic series based on their games. While you can enjoy full novels based on the likes of Mass Effect, Halo, Street Fighter, Sonic the Hedgehog, World of Warcraft, Uncharted and the Star Wars games.

OPENING UP THE

Name: Disney Infinity 2.0: Marvel Super Heroes

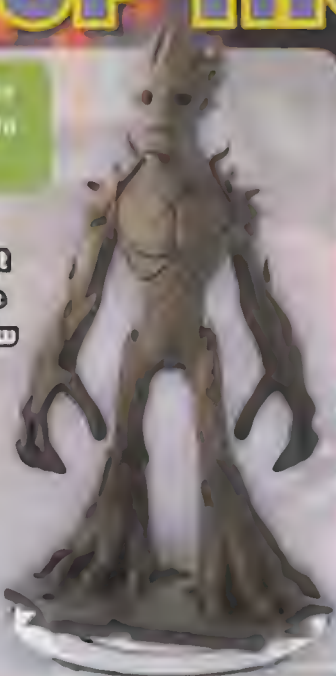

Format: PS4, PS3, XBOX 360, iOS, PC, Wii U, Wii

Release: September 18

What's even better than having one of the biggest game releases of all time coming out this month? When the developer flies all the way from the USA to Sydney Australia to show it off to your lucky GameStal!

Let's get the most obvious thing out of the way first – Marvel characters are cool. So cool! Like the original Disney Infinity release, this game asks you to place figurines of your favourite characters onto a special device (the Infinity Base), which transports them into the game world. So yes, that means you get to collect a whole bunch of Marvel super hero figurines and that's pretty awesome all on its own. They feel really sturdy and strong in your hands, too – we even dropped one onto concrete and it barely had a scratch.

Marvel characters also have powers, and they're totally available in the game. For example, characters like Thor and Iron Man can fly, which completely changes the way you play the game (for the better if you ask us!). Spider-man and Venom can web sling through the world, which is stacks of fun. The Hulk can smash the ground and cause huge craters and cracks to appear. Not only that, each of the characters has a mega crazy special move you can unleash. It's gonna be so much fun collecting the new Marvel characters, leveling up their skills and abilities and seeing what they can do in the game.

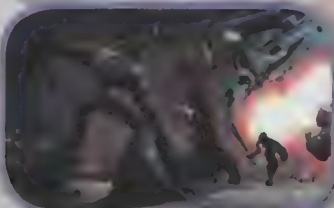

TOY BOX

It's Play Time

Also like the first game, there are two main ways to enjoy the game. The first is the story-driven playset mode, and the starter pack that you get when you buy the game comes with a 3D adventure to enjoy set in The Avengers universe, using Iron Man, Thor and Black Widow figurines.

Also available at launch is a Guardians of the Galaxy playset. The sci-fi setting is a completely different kind of experience, and it features some very enjoyable characters, including Groot, one of our favourites. A third playset, based on the Ultimate Spider-Man comics, ensures that there is a heck of a lot of gaming on offer right from the get go.

The story experiences are excellent. All the characters are fully voiced, which helps bring them to life, and it's good that dying has more punishment – you'll either have to switch to a new character, or go back to an old save point – ouch. Each of the playsets provides an open-world about four times bigger than those in the first game you can explore, completing sidequests and story-based missions as you desire, or explore for the stacks of collectables.

The stories are written by the same people that worked on the source material, creating a really authentic experience. You'll even be able to earn the right to play characters from different universes in the story-based experience; you just have to collect all the crossover coins. For example, you can play the Guardians of the Galaxy storyline as Iron Man, which is rad.

Free Your Mind

The second way to play Disney Infinity 2.0 is in the Toy Box, which has been revamped and improved in so many cool ways we can't possibly talk about them all. The core idea is the same, allowing you to use the available figurines, playsets and power discs you have collected to construct your very own worlds and game experiences. It's kind of like Minecraft meets LittleBigPlanet, themed to your favourite Disney universe. But what are our favourite new features?

We love the builders and creators, which you can set to work in your world and they will just create things based on their skillset. For example, the treehouse builder will start constructing something small, and if you leave him long enough you'll come back to

DID YOU KNOW?

You can now share your toy box with anybody on your friends list, whenever you feel like it. In fact, you can even share across platforms.

a massive treehouse sprawling up into the sky. There are builders for caves, dungeons, race tracks, castles, cities and more, and everything they do is completely random. It's great using these guys if you don't know where to start, as you can get these dudes to create something, and then just tweak it to whatever you want.

Also really awesome is that you can now use pre-built minigames. There are stacks to choose from, and you can just drop them into your world so they are completely ready to go. Minigames like pinball and soccer are pre-programmed so they work just as they should, but you can still tinker with any piece you want and customise it to behave just how you like. You can even change what the buttons on your controller will do.

It's just amazing how much you can create. Want to do a 2D platformer? You can now do a 2D camera view. Want to create an epic RPG with lots of story? Well you can.

DID YOU KNOW?

All your existing power discs and characters from the first Disney Infinity game will work just fine with Disney Infinity 2.0. In fact, the level cap has been raised from 15 to 20, plus they each have new skill trees to upgrade through. So you could have a massive collection to muck around with straightaway.

create text and build a story in the game! Want to be evil? Create a dungeon with lots of secret traps and enemies, then invite your friends in to play.

Oh, did we mention you can make interiors too? You can create an entire world inside a castle or a cave. You can then have doors that lead to other levels you have created. There is nothing stopping you from building a castle with 10 doors that lead to 10 completely different worlds and having a huge unique game to share with your friends. There's nothing you can't do and we're totally stoked with all the additions and improvements available in this must-own sequel. Go get it now!

The Power Discs

HEXADISCS: These allow you to change the look and music of your world by bringing in a new theme from a specific Disney world.

CIRCULAR DISCS: These still give your characters buffs, but now they also provide more dramatic changes, such as new costumes.

EVENTS: These add an additional power ability to your character, which works on a countdown and is usually pretty epic.

TEAMS: This awesome disc allows you to bring in a second character into your game world who will fight alongside you for about 30 seconds.

MINIGAMES

As if this game wasn't already big enough, you can get discs that provide fully functional minigames (such as a tower defence game, and a dungeon crawler) that provide 3 to 4 hours of gameplay.

DID YOU KNOW?

You can play this game in 2-player splitscreen co-op or with four people online.

Playable Characters

As you'd expect, there will many more playable characters announced around and after the launch of the game, but here is the current list:

MARVEL UNIVERSE: Captain America, Iron Man, The Incredible Hulk, Thor, Black Widow, Hawkeye, Loki.

SPIDER-MAN COMICS: Spider-Man, Nova, Iron Fist, Nick Fury, Venom, Green Goblin.

GUARDIANS OF THE GALAXY: Star Lord, Gamora, Drax, Rocket Raccoon, Groot, Ronan the Accuser.

DISNEY BEAUTY: Maleficent, Belle, Merida.

PIXAR: Stitch.

DISNEY: Thumper Bell.

DISNEY: Donald Duck, Crystal, Broomer's Aggression Mickey.

DISNEY: Hiro Hamada, Baymax.

DISNEY: Aladdin, Jasmine.

subject. This year's winner is all about making his occasional wine-tasting sessions with some smoothies, tropical hot glycerin, deodorizing hair, water-soluble cosmetics, more proper hydration, and so forth. It's not just that the quarterly award has moved from a list, and you need to be more personal with your jewelry and hair styling, which may mean a long-haired face of first, last, it's hard to believe that this isn't the first winner out of the great sports games in the world.

ULTIMATE NINJA STORM REVOLUTION

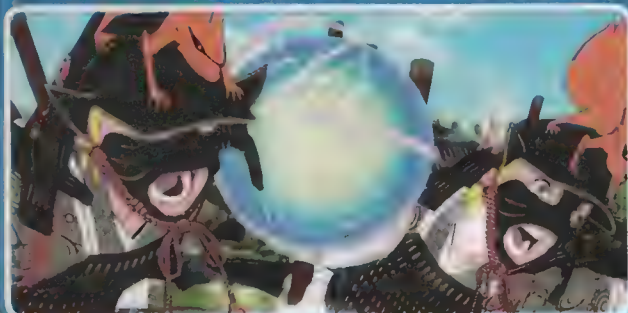

PS3, 360, PC

Naruto is back to kick it one last time on the old generation of systems and as you'd expect, he leaves in style. We know what to expect from the series by now, but it's still impressive watching with each release how much more like the anime it feels – in fact this game has 46-minutes worth of new animated cutscenes – and how they keep ramping up the spectacular fighting – the screen is only so big after all! For example, you can now take a party of three fighters against an AI team of three fighters in epic six character battles. The guard break and counterattack mechanics have been overhauled, while a new battle system allows each of the 118 characters to adopt three types of fighting – Ultimate Jutsu, Awakening and Drive. All you really need to know, however, is that the fighting is still amazing fun (especially against a friend), that there is a lot of new original story content to enjoy and there is now a Mecha-Naruto character to play!!!

Most games you play will give you very specific objectives: like kick five chickens or find this rare treasure – Minecraft does not. You're pretty much free to do anything, but don't mistake that for not needing to set goals. One of our biggest tips is to make sure that you set yourself goals to complete each time you sit down to play so that you feel like you have achieved something. Maybe you just want to collect a certain amount of resources? Maybe you want to create a stronger sword? Whatever it is, make sure it is something you think you can realistically do, and then get out there and make it happen.

WWE LIVE BACK

As well as watching the show for free, our WWE Live tour ticket winners got to slip backstage for a meet a greet. Check out their ring-side reports and photos with the Superstars!

MELBOURNE

August 7

I couldn't believe I was about to go to the WWE Live show.

It was time to get to sleep properly (not thinking about going).

Finally the day came and the fantastic WWE backstage was amazing.

All through the show the only words I could say were "YES" and "WWE RULES".

My favourite match was when Trish Stratus came out because he was the toughest wrestler and he had good dance moves and ripped his own hair. It was great to see him win the match.

I really loved the Australian live event too and all the girls were amazing.

Meeting Trish and Layla was amazing. They were so nice to me and said they loved my WWE gear. I was happy to have the chance to meet them!

By Mitchell Wilson

SYDNEY

August 8

Finally the day arrived and my Dad and I went early so we could go and meet Bray Wyatt. He is PRUGET but a really nice guy. The first battle looked like an all-in brawl.

It was a 10-man wrestle and the winner got an Intercontinental Title match later in the night. RVD eventually beat Luke Harper with both getting a lot of cheers at the end. The next event was the girls, Nikki, Bella and Emma vs Alicia, Fox and Layla. A huge scream from the crowd for Emma as she's from Melbourne! Nikki won the match for her team with the Rack Attack move.

The next match was for a US Title: Sheamus vs CM Punk. Sheamus looked huge in the ring, much bigger than

STAGE PASS

WWE 47

Cesaro. This turned out to be a great match and it went on for ages. Just when you thought Sheamus was going to win Cesaro came back and when Cesaro looked like he'd won, Sheamus came back. The crowd went really into this fight. Cesaro gave Sheamus the saving for about 11 revolutions. Sheamus got the win by kicking Cesaro in the head.

The Usos vs The Wyatt's Tag Team Match was fun with the crowd yelling each other, yelling 'Let's Go Usos' and then 'Let's Go Wyatts'. The Usos won after doing a diving splash on Erick Rowan.

Intercontinental Champion Match: The Miz vs Rob Van Dam was the match RVD got the chance to be in after winning the first 'all-in brawl' match. The crowd went mad when The Miz came out but RVD came out to a bigger reaction from the crowd. I was screaming for RVD but unfortunately The Miz got the win.

Having met Bray Wyatt earlier at the 'meet and greet' I was yelling madly when he came out to vs Chris Jericho. I kept yelling out for Bray to smash Jericho but Jericho ended up winning with the Codebreaker.

The final match, Kane vs Roman Reigns in a Street Fight, was refereed by Ric Flair. Kane came out first and the crowd seemed mixed as to whether they liked him or not. I was supporting Kane. Reigns finally came out and the music was sooo loud. It was a really good match that kept on going for ages, in and out of the ring. Reigns ended up winning with The Spear. What a great night out. Thanks heaps to KRASH for the tickets.

PERTH

August 9

When I first found out I'd won the KRASH WWE live competition I was doing victory laps around the house. I just couldn't believe it!

When we arrived at the Perth Arena to see the show, we were taken backstage to meet the superstars. On our way down the corridor, we passed Sheamus and The Miz, then we were greeted by Kofi Kingston, Nikki Bella and Emma. Kofi is one of my favourite wrestlers, so it was awesome meeting him.

The rest of the night was absolutely fantastic. There were a lot of really good matches including a so-called tag team and a high threat match, but I really enjoyed watching Kofi Kingston vs The Miz. Kofi was performing his high-flying moves but unfortunately lost to The Miz.

The main event was Roman Reigns vs Kane in a Street Fight Match with special guest referee Ric Flair. Kane slammed Roman Reigns into a table, but Roman Reigns came back and won with his finisher (The Spear).

It was an unforgettable night, with the loud cheering and cheering of the crowd during every match. It was a great experience and one I will never forget.

PRANK'D

Terrorise your friends and family with our list of classic pranks.

THE PRANK:

BROWNIE BAIT

THE SET UP: This is a great prank to play on your teacher at school. Ask your mum or dad to help you cut a bunch of big letter 'E's out of the brown cardboard. Stick them all in the baking tray and cover the tray with aluminum foil. Next day at school, give the tray to the teacher and tell them you've baked them a tray of brownies. When they open the foil expecting to find your delicious brownies, all they'll get is your batch of brown 'E's. Get it?!

THE PUNISHMENT: If your teacher is completely uncool you might get a detention, but we reckon most will have a sense of humour about it.

TOOL KIT

A baking tray, brown cardboard, scissors and some aluminum foil

LAUGH

THE PRANK:

THE BIG BLACK-OUT

THE SET UP: Wait until your family is asleep and tip toe out of bed, quietly placing a piece of clear sticky tape over every light switch in the house. Now put the alarm clock in the lounge room, or somewhere everyone will hear it, and set it to go off in the middle of the night. Sneak back into bed and wait for the alarm clock to ring. When it does, your family will rush out of bed to turn it off and won't be able to figure out why they can't switch the lights on!

THE PUNISHMENT: People can be extra grumpy when you disturb their sleep, so you can expect some yelling for this one. But hopefully they'll see the funny side in the morning!

TOOL KIT

A roll of clear sticky tape and an alarm clock

METER

THE PRANK:

BOILED EGG BLAST

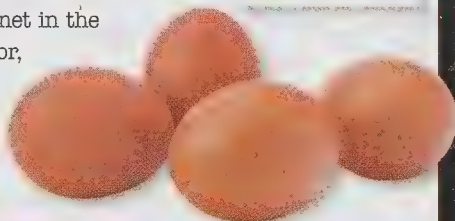

THE SET UP: You'll need to get an adult's help with this one.

Ask your mum or dad to boil a bunch of eggs and let them cool down in the fridge. Once they're cold, stack them inside a kitchen cupboard or inside the medicine cabinet in the bathroom. When the next person opens the door, the boiled eggs will come rolling out. Watch as they try to catch and juggle them, only to discover that boiled eggs don't smash!

THE PUNISHMENT: No harm, no foul. That's what we reckon anyway.

TOOL KIT

Several boiled eggs

METER

THE PRANK:

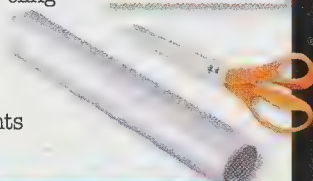

BOTTLE TOP TIP-OFF

THE SET UP: When nobody is watching, sneak into the kitchen and take out all sauce bottles you can find. Unscrew all the bottle tops and caps and cover the mouth of the bottles in cling wrap. Screw the tops back on and use the scissors or carefully trip away any cling wrap that is left sticking out the sides. Dinner time will be a crack up when your family can't figure out why all the sauce bottles are clogged!

THE PUNISHMENT: This one is easily fixed, so your parents should see the funny side.

TOOL KIT

Some cling wrap and a pair of scissors

METER

THE PRANK:

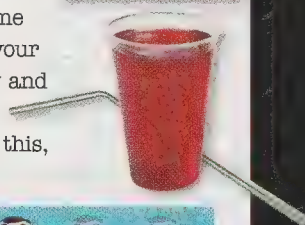

JELLY JUICE

THE SET UP: You'll need an adult to help you out with this one as well. Ask your mum or dad to make up a batch of instant jelly and pour it into the plastic cup. Carefully place the drinking straw into the centre of the jelly cup and put it in the fridge to set. Next time you have a friend over, offer them a glass of juice and produce your jelly cup. They'll be surprised when they take a sip on the straw and nothing comes out!

THE PUNISHMENT: Not only will there be no punishment for this, you and your friend will have a delicious jelly treat to eat!

TOOL KIT

A packet of instant
jelly, a plastic cup and a drinking straw

VOICEOVER ARTIST

Check out our chat with Olivia Olson

from Cartoon Network's Adventure Time

Time to find out what it's like to be a professional voice-over artist.

NAME: OLIVIA OLSON.
AGE: 22.
OCCUPATION: SINGER /
 SONGWRITER / ACTRESS.

KRASH: When did you discover your interest in acting and voiceover work?

Olivia: It was pretty obvious from a young age who I was going to be. My parents have home videos of my brother and I where I'm singing into a hairbrush trying to get all the attention. My brother Casey is in the background shooting me with his toy guns. He is security for the navy now and I'm here doing this interview.

KRASH: What were you like at school and did you have a favourite subject?

Olivia: I was all over the place in high school. I was friends with the "cool kids" but also was heavily into the drama department, on the swim team, and probably my most favourite was being in Jazz band. I was in choir too but honestly didn't really like singing in the background. One day I made the Jazz band teacher listen to me sing an Ella Fitzgerald song. They immediately transferred classes for me and we wound up placing sixth in the country of school Jazz bands.

KRASH: What kind of study did you have to do?

Olivia: Regular public school. I took some time off to do acting roles such as Love Actually. But my parents always were extremely adamant that I grew up normally and didn't turn into a crazy kid star.

KRASH: How did you score your job as a voiceover?

Olivia: My father (Martin Olson) has been a comedy writer for over 30 years. One of his many endeavors included working on a little show called Rocko's Modern Life which he wrote alongside Dan Povenmire and Swampy Marsh. They would create Phineas and Ferb. When it came time to cast new, fresh, young talent they were gracious enough to let an old family friend audition.

KRASH: What do you love the most about your job?

Olivia: The fact that so many people love the show and my character, but, have no idea who I am! I am the luckiest girl to be cast on two hit cartoons. Whenever I'm out and see a kid in a Marceline shirt it's kind of my own little fun secret like "haha yes!"

Supanova Adelaide will occur November 21-23 and Supanova Brisbane will occur November 28-30. For more information please visit supanova.com.au.

TIST

ADVENTURE TIME TRIVIA

■ Every episode of Adventure Time features a small snail waving at viewers. The snail is usually only on screen for one scene each time.

■ Actor, Jeremy Shada, was selected to voice Finn after his older brother, Zach, who played the character in the pilot episode, was unable to continue the role due to his changing voice.

■ The post-apocalyptic Earth in Adventure Time has a hole at the side which is believed to have been caused by the Mushroom War which occurred around 1,000 years before the series time-span. Olivia's character Marceline is believed to have lived during the Mushroom War before turning into a vampire.

■ Finn's name was originally Pen, a shortened name of the show's creator, Pendleton Ward, however, Ward decided against it.

That's me!"

KRASH: What is the most challenging thing about your job?

Olivia: Figuring out all the different voices to make when Marceline turns into a demon, werewolf, bat, octopus or whatever else she will turn into next! It's a fun challenge though.

KRASH: How do you keep your voice in good shape?

Olivia: Not much. I just make sure I sing every single day. And if someone close to me gets sick I literally tell them to stay far away!

KRASH: Can you describe a typical day at work?

Olivia: Awesome. I go in for ten minutes, say my lines and get to go home! For Adventure Time, we all record the episodes together in the same booth. It's really great getting to play off of each other. Sometimes the directors use stuff we say that wasn't in the script.

KRASH: Tell us something that not many people know about being a voiceover?

Olivia: That you have to be an actor to be a voice actor. Many people think it might be easier because it's just using your voice reading the lines. But, in reality you have to convey the lines, the actions your character is doing and the emotions all with your voice. It's a lot harder than it looks.

KRASH: How do you relax after a day at work?

Olivia: I just like to watch Netflix with my cat, Ziggy, and my boyfriend, Cash. I'm a pretty simple gal.

KRASH: What has been your most memorable career moment so far?

Olivia: Probably the first time I saw myself on a movie screen. It was so weird and almost an embarrassing feeling. But that feeling keeps me going to do more and more.

KRASH: What advice can you share with kids that are interested in working in television?

Olivia: Don't try unless you have very thick skin. A wise woman once told me that for every 500 auditions you go on you will only book one and that's if you're lucky. I was told all those things and much worse but never let it get to me. I knew that I was destined for some kind of greatness so I kept at it. In the end I couldn't be happier I didn't book some of the roles I wanted so bad at the time and look where I ended up now. Still working towards that greatness.

KRASH: Olivia, what is your favourite episode of Adventure Time and why?

Olivia: Any Marceline and Hunson Abadeer episode. My real dad plays Marcy's dad. How could you not love acting out a fight to the death with your old man?

KRASH: How long does it usually take you to learn lines for one episode?

Olivia: We get the script that day same day. One of the best parts about voice acting. No one sees you so you don't have to memorise lines!

KRASH: How do you prepare mentally before recording?

Olivia: Eh, I don't really do anything. By now I'm so in tune with my characters it comes naturally.

KRASH: What is the best piece of advice you've been given?

Olivia: The bigger and weirder the better. You can always dial it back a notch, but you can't always make someone go out of their comfort zone. Be the person who has no comfort zone. That's where the magic happens.

Olivia Olsen was in Sydney for Supanova Pop Culture Expo. Adventure Time season 6 premieres Monday 1 September at 5pm.

Freak Out

CRAZY CRAVINGS

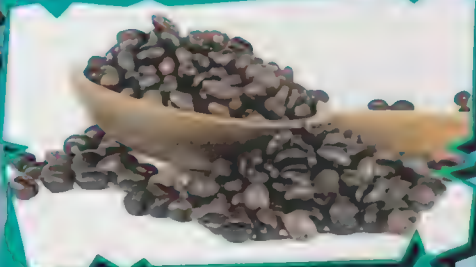

Some people are addicted to chocolate.
Others crave far, far freakier things...

SAUSAGE KING

British accountant David Harding has spent thousands of dollars trying to kick his sausage habit - without success. He devours up to 13 bangers every day and sought counselling to try and figure out his fixation for snags.

CAFFEINE HIT

A lot of people need a coffee fix to make it through the day, but not in the way Trina and Mike Elliott from America do. Instead of your usual cappuccino, these guys give themselves coffee enemas - which means they put the coffee up their butt! But wait, they heat it up first and use a Vaseline-coated hose to insert it so the caffeine is absorbed into the bloodstream more quickly than drinking it. Do not try this at home. YUK!

WIGGING OUT

Would it surprise you to learn there's a help group out there for people who can't get enough of 'hair carpet'. That's right, there's a Wig Addicts Anonymous (WAA). As well as giving each other discounts on wigs, members of WAA celebrate a different coloured wig each month and call themselves Wig-aholics.

PUPPET PAL

Ventriloquist April Bruckner wasn't anywhere without one of her eight puppets. She even broke up with her fiancé when he made her choose between him or the puppets. If Kermit the Frog wasn't already taken by Miss Piggy, April could've been his perfect match!

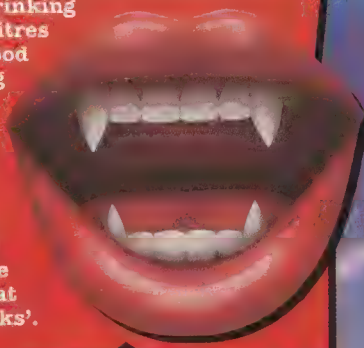

HAIRY SITUATION

Most people use a hairdryer to, um, dry their hair but for Lori Broady it's a must-have for falling asleep. Lori says she hasn't been able to sleep without her hairdryer since she was eight. She started using it to drown out the noise made by her three siblings and says she finds the sound and heat comforting.

BLOOD LUST

Thought drinking blood was just for Edward and his Twilight family? Think again. Some modern-day humans admit to drinking it too - a Pennsylvania mum called Julia Caples, for example. Julia admits to drinking nearly two litres of human blood from 'willing donors' every month and swears it keeps her looking young. As diets go, we reckon that really 'sucks'.

VIDEO GAME OVERLOAD

Warning: Video Game Addiction can Cause Death. Don't believe us? Google it and you'll find out it's true. Just one example is Chris Staniforth, who was a 20-year-old Xbox addict from England who died suddenly after playing 12 straight hours of video games. Chris died of deep vein thrombosis, a disease usually affecting those on long plane flights who are sitting with little to no movement. The lack of movement killed Chris, who developed a blood clot in his left calf that moved to his lungs, creating a deadly blockage.

CRAZY CAT LADY

If you're freaked out when a cat licks you, then this is going to bust your gross-o-metre. An American woman called Lisa is addicted to licking her cat back, and eating clumps of its hair! On the US TV show My Strange Addiction she admitted to gathering cat fur from around her apartment, including off the floor and from the back of her couch, but she says the best hair are ones 'right off the cat'.

Practice makes perfect, so grab your board, head to the skate park, and try this awesome trick. Can you do it as well as Dylan?

You need to be able to confidently do a 50/50 grind first before you attempt this trick.

STEP 1:

Get lots of speed and keep your arms out. The closer they are to your body, the better.

STEP 2:

Let your front leg up, bring your knee into your stomach, lean y and keep it there for as long as the rail goes

ND

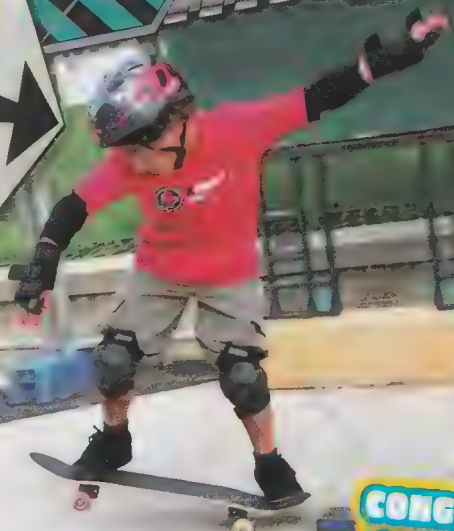

STEP 3:

As you roll, keep a firm grip on the tail of your board. Use the tail of your board to stick it into the air. Remember, keep your eyes on the tail of the tail.

STEP 4:

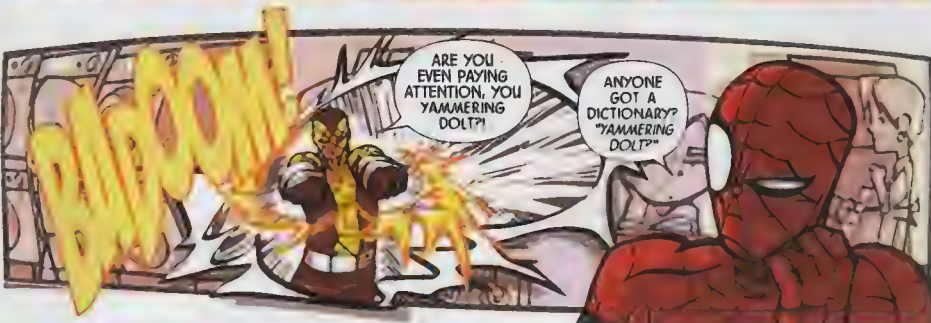

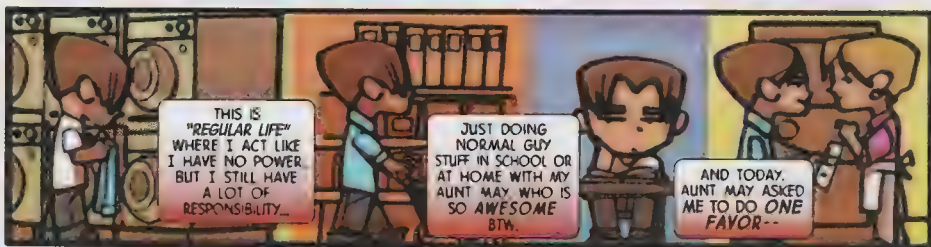

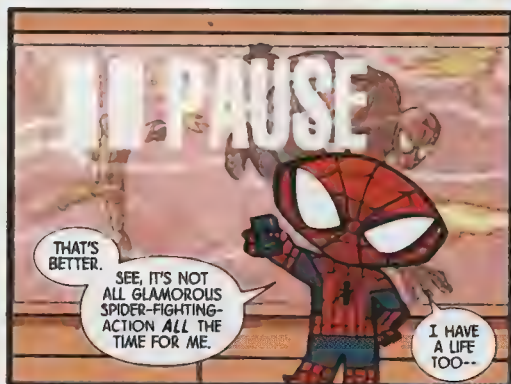

When you're ready, roll the board forward. Keep your feet on the board and your arms out. You'll know you're doing it right when you see the tail of the board stick out.

SHAME OF THE MONTH

When I was at our school swimming carnival I was very nervous before I jumped in the pool, I had butterflies in my tummy. As I got up onto the blocks to dive in the pool everything went silent before the whistle, but when I bent over to dive in I let out a huge fart. All the kids on the blocks looked at me and laughed, one kid fell in laughing and he was disqualified

One day at school my Physical Education teacher was choosing students for the long jump competition. It was my turn and I had to jump. Suddenly, a group of girls came to see. I ran as fast as I could and when I leapt off I tried to cycle in the air like those athletes you see on TV. When I tried to cycle in the air I ripped off my pants in front of everybody! Everybody started to laugh at me and tease me! It was the worst day of my life!

One day I was at the park with a bunch of friends. I was climbing a huge slide. When I was climbing the slide I did the splits and fell. My friend helped me up and then let go and I fell on the ground with my legs stretched. While I was stretching everyone could see my #@&$%. It was SOOOOO EMBARRASSING.

One day I was at school in the morning and some girls started screaming in the playground. So I said "move girls, Freddie has come to save you" and I was trying to be cool. Then I saw a huge cat and guts everywhere! There were so many flies I couldn't see, then I started screaming like a girl. Then the girls started laughing.
